PHOENIX HOTEL,
(Corner of Main and Mulberry Streets),
Lexington, Kentucky.

THE subscriber begs to inform his friends and the public generally, that he has leased this old and well known Hotel, in the city of Lexington, and that he has taken charge of the same.

The House has recently undergone a thorough renovation; the rooms are newly and neatly furnished; and still further improvements will be made to render it in all respects worthy of public patronage, and an agreeable home to those who may avail themselves of its privileges.

Intending to devote his own time and attention to the business, and to surround himself with competent assistants, together with faithful, polite and attentive servants, he gives the assurance to the public that no efforts on his part shall be wanting to make the old Phoenix in all respects worthy of its reputation in its palmy days.

Professions, however, are too easily and too frequently made to be of much value unless accompanied by corresponding acts, and he, therefore, only asks that the public may test the sincerity of his pledges by giving him a call. They will always find him ready to minister to their comforts in the best manner in his power.

LIFE PILLS AND PHEGIX BITTERS.

THESE MEDICINES have now been before the public for a period of thirty years, and during that time have maintained a high character in almost every part of the Globe, for their extraordinary and immediate power of restoring perfect health to persons suffering under nearly every kind of disease to which the human frame is liable.

The following are among the distressing variety of human diseases in which the VEGETABLE LIFE MEDICINES are well known to be infallible.
Dyspepsia, by thoroughly cleansing the first and second stomachs, and creating a flow of pure, healthy bile, instead of the stale and acrid kind; Flatulency, loss of appetite, Heart-Burn, Headache, Restlessness, Ill-Temper, Anxiety, Langour, and Melancholy, which are the general symptoms of Dyspepsia, will vanish, as a natural consequence of its cure.

Constipation, by cleansing the whole length of the intestines with a solvent process, and without violence; all violent purges leave the bowels costive within two days.

Removal of all kinds of morbid blood to regular circulation, through the process of respiration in such cases, and the thorough solution of all intestinal obstruction in others.

The Life Medicines have been known to cure RHEUMATISM in three weeks, and Gout in half that time, by removing local inflammation from the muscles and ligaments of the joints.

Dropsies of all kinds, by freeing and strengthening the kidneys and bladder; they operate most beneficially on these important organs, and hence have ever been found a certain remedy for the worst cases of Gravel.

Also Worms, by dislodging from the turnings of the bowels the slimy matter to which these creatures adhere.

Scorbutic Eruptions, and Bad Complexions, by their alterative effect upon the fluids that feed the skin, and the morbid state of which occasions all eruptive complaints, scallow, cloudy, and other disagreeable complexions.

The use of these Pills for a very short time will effect an entire cure of Salt Rheum, and a striking improvement in the clearness of the skin. Common Colds and Influenza will always be cured by one or two of these Pills.

Piles.—The original proprietor of these Medicines was cured of Piles, of 35 years standing, by the use of the Life Medicines alone.

FEVER AND AGUE.—For this scourge of the Western country, these medicines will be found a safe, speedy, and certain remedy. Other medicines leave the system subject to a return of the disease; a cure by these Medicines is permanent—try them, be satisfied, and be cured.

Bilious Fevers and Liver Complaints.—General Debility, Loss of Appetite, and Diseases of Female Organs, the Medicines have been used with the most beneficial results in cases of this description.

King's Evil, and Scrofula, in its worst forms, yields to the mild yet powerful action of these Medicines. Night Sweats, Nervous Debility, Nervous Complaints of all kinds, Palpitation of the Heart, Painters' Colic, are speedily cured.

Morbid Dispositions.—Persons whose constitutions have become impaired by the injudicious use of mercury, will find these Medicines a perfect cure, as they never fail to eradicate from the system all the effects of Mercury, infinitely sooner than the most powerful preparations of Sarsaparilla.

Prepared and sold by W. B. MOFFAT, 335 Broadway, New York.

For sale by all Druggists. oct15, '60-wly.

The Louisville Journal says the letter below is from one Kentucky officer to another. The writer is one of the most gifted and promising young men in the State:

RUSSELLVILLE, Ky., Feb. 13, 1863.

DEAR — Your favor of the 7th was received some days since and would have been answered earlier, but other business has prevented my doing so. I was glad to hear from you personally, but pained to hear of your dissatisfaction, and the course you desire to pursue. You wish me to tell you how you can get out of what you style "this once Union, but now abolition war," or whether I think Kentuckians ought to remain in the army awhile longer. As you have been a faithful and true soldier, and I have no doubt, ask my advice in good faith, I will, in equally good faith, and in a spirit of the utmost friendship, plainly and briefly give you my views as to our duty as Kentuckians in this great and terrible crisis.

If I knew of any other honorable way of getting out of the service than the one you have already attempted, I conceive my duty as a patriot and a true friend would require me to dissuade you from taking such a step. It would, I feel, become me as a lover of our imperiled country, to use my influence, directly or indirectly, to cause a true and tried officer to leave her ranks in this trying hour; on the contrary, I hold that if ever there was a time demanding of us a stricter adherence to principles, a loftier, sterner devotion to our cause, than another, that time is now. As the storms of red handed rebellion, and an insane fanaticism, howl around us with increasing violence, threatening to overturn the temple of our freedom, let us not despair, but let us rise, with the great occasion, and put on a loftier, brighter faith, a higher resolve, and like young Hannibal of old, swear by the God of our fathers, eternal hostility to that foul and bloody treason—the wicked cause of our woes—that would stalk in fiendish joy through the slaughter of the nation's best children, over the ruins of that proudest bulwark of human liberty, the American Union. I cannot agree with you that this is on the part of the nation an "abolition" war. I will admit, with sorrow, that the President and his advisers are attempting so to manage the war as to produce outside collateral consequences that are unconstitutional and outrageous, but what is still the main object of the war on the part of the nation, and what will be the result if the nation succeeds? The suppression of the rebellion. What did we volunteer for? To help put down a wicked, causeless rebellion. Were we right? I feel unmistakably that we were.

Has the rebellion done anything so far to commend it to us to the lovers of freedom or our race? Let the graves of our slaughtered Union dead answer. Has it become more lovely in its perjuries, its robberies, its hangings, its murders of Unionists? I think not; it is the same stupendous crime, more hideous, more cruel, more bloody in its deformity. Shall we falter now in the great work of crushing the monster, because, per chance, in doing so, something else may be done which we may condemn however severely? I trust not. Can the bad conduct of a Buchanan or a Lincoln destroy our obligations to our common country, to our selves, and to those who come after us? No.

Though the President, or those who seem to control him even against his better judgment, may take advantage of the war to free and arm a few negroes, the contest is still the same in all its great and grand proportions—a contest between union and dissolution, government and anarchy, loyalty and treason, the ardent hopes of the friends of human liberty and constitutional freedom, and the wishes of the malignant devotees of gloomy despotism; and the clamors of "peace" traitors and timid friends, frightened by the old state cry of "nigger" cannot change it. I am opposed to the radical policy of the Administration—earnestly and bitterly opposed to it, but how ought I as a citizen soldier to manifest my opposition?

By legal constitutional actions at the proper time at the ballot box. This is the good old way to redress wrongs of Administrations in a free Government. It may be slow but it is sure. Mr. Lincoln and his unprincipled, wicked advisers are not the Government. Their term of office is of short duration, and the time will soon come, if we are true to ourselves and preserve the government, when their places will be filled by better men, when a conservative Executive and Congress, regarding the Constitution as still the supreme law of the land, will annul unconstitutional, impracticable legislation, illegal edicts, and barbarous proclamations. In the meantime, however, the efforts of loyal men to crush the rebellion must not be relaxed, for upon the suppression of the rebellion depends the permanence of law and order and conservation on this continent.

With the rebellion crushed out and destroyed and the authority of the government sustained, though at the cost of some of our best blood and untold treasure we still have something to live for, something to hope, a glorious nationality preserved, the unity of government intact, the Constitution still the supreme law, though set at naught for a time, those outrages corrected that gall and humiliate us now, a still young and vigorous nation with a power of resources and a martial fame before which the antiquated despots of the old world will stand abashed, and before us a bright future of promise, of progress, of freedom, of high national advancement, of civilization, and glory. This is but a feeble picture indeed of what we may hope for, if the rebellion is crushed, and the national authority vindicated; but let the rebellion succeed, and what have we to hope for? What have we to live for? Can there be peace? Can there be security? I cannot think so.

Where then, will be our venerated Constitution? Where our once glorious nationality? Where the great republic? Gone, and gone forever and in place thereof a multitude of weak petty little States and sovereignties, unable to protect their citizens, or give them respectability at home or abroad, or perhaps a number of military despotisms, wrangling, quarreling, and warring endlessly. I turn with relief from contemplating the wild confusion and anarchy of disunion to the glorious hopes of Union law, and liberty. Let us, therefore, stand firm, unwavering, and steadfast by our principles and our flag. If we are true to ourselves the future will be true to us. Our cause is just and right, and must ultimately prevail; and in that good time coming, when gentle peace shall dispense her blessings under the benignity of national law and a glorious Union restored, the loyal and true every where will abundantly reward us by their gratitude and blessing for our sacrifices, dangers and wounds, our trials, humiliations, and sacrifices; and let us so conduct our selves now, in this dark and trying hour, that then we can claim, proudly claim, that we were of the Grand Army of the Union, and that no violation of pledges by an unfaithful Executive, no unconstitutional, malignant legislation of a fanatical, idiotic Congress could, in the darkest hour, sweep us one jot or tittle from our high allegiance. I am grieved to hear of dissatisfaction in your regiment. You owe it to yourselves and to your hitherto untarnished reputation resolutely to go to work and ally discontent. Let not insubordination, useless bickering, or faltering now, tarnish the bright, hard-earned fame of the —. I know you have a good deal to bear, but it is your duty to bear it like a man. Let not the real or fancied misconduct of any officer sweep you from the path of loyalty to your country. Give my best wishes to all my friends. Write me again.

Your friend, truly,

It snowed here on Saturday.

THE GREAT FIRE AT TROY, N. Y.

The Phoenix of Hartford.

[Extracts from letters from S. L. Loomis, Esq., President of the Phoenix Insurance Company, of Hartford, Conn., to R. H. & H. M. Magill, General Agents, relative to the late serious conflagration at Troy.]

PHOENIX INSURANCE COMPANY,

Hartford, Conn., May 12, 1862.

"A big fire at Troy—we are in how much we don't know. May be $20,000; but whatever it is, it will be paid as fast as ADJUSTED, and no crying. Secretary Kellogg went up there this morning. Mr. Wallace (Adjuster) will meet him there to-morrow. They will make short work of it. The fire swept off about fifty acres of buildings—a sad calamity to Troy, but one no human forecast could have prevented. It is the first emergency we ever had, and such an one as gives more character to a Company than a hundred $5,000 losses."

HARTFORD, May 13, 1862.

"Our losses may reach $15,000 or $20,000, BUT WHATEVER THEY ARE, THEY WILL ALL BE PAID BEFORE SATURDAY NIGHT IF THEY CAN BE ADJUSTED. It is such fires that try the backbone of Companies, and if they can stand upon under the heavy load, it will give them great credit."

S. L. LOOMIS, President.
